Job Description

The Department of Finance in the School of Management at the University at Buffalo, State University of New York (SUNY) is seeking applicants for Assistant/Associate Professor faculty positions.

The positions seek candidates within the area of financial research, preferably, but not restricted to asset pricing or investments. The positions will focus on instruction of finance at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and teaching may involve both digital access and traditional classroom delivery. Interest in teaching a course on fixed income will be a plus.

The UB School of Management is recognized for its emphasis on real-world learning, community and economic impact, and the global perspective of its faculty, students and alumni. For more information about the UB School of Management, visit mgt.buffalo.edu.

Impactful research, academic merit, transformative scholar experiences, and broad-ranging service to local, state, national, and international populations describe UB's calling as a leading research-intensive public university. UB was founded in 1846 as a private medical college located in downtown Buffalo and joined SUNY in 1962. Today, UB is the largest and most comprehensive public research university in the SUNY system and a prominent, global center for academic excellence. In 1990, UB was the first public university in the Northeast to be welcomed into the Association of American Universities (AAU), joining North America's other leading research universities.

UB is located in Buffalo, NY, which is located on Lake Erie, close to Niagara Falls, and a short distance from Toronto and other attractions, and is a city that features world-class art galleries and museums (American Style ranked Buffalo as the #1 arts destination for all mid-size cities), impressive architecture, and a wonderful series of parks and outdoor recreation areas. Buffalo is close to two significant wine growing regions-Niagara Escarpment and the Finger Lakes region. In addition, the Adirondack Mountains are half-a-day's drive from Buffalo. Rich in natural resources and beauty, the Buffalo Niagara area is a four-season region that offers the best for seasonal sports enthusiasts. These features along with the economic and cultural revitalization being experienced by the city and surrounding region and its affordability, make the region highly attractive as evidenced by Buffalo's top rankings in multiple categories as a place to live (e.g., <http://www.forbes.com/sites/erincarlyle/2014/03/11/americas-most-affordable-cities/>)

University at Buffalo is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer and, in keeping with our commitment, welcomes all to apply including veterans and individuals with disabilities.
