Marquette is one of 27 Catholic, Jesuit universities in the United States and is the largest private university in Wisconsin. Its attractive 98-acre campus on the edge of Milwaukee's downtown is home to a highly collegial community with more than 2,800 employees and a current enrollment at approximately 11,600 students. Marquette is ranked in the top 100 of national universities by U.S. News & World Report with aspirations to be in the top 75. In 2015, the university reached a new Carnegie research classification as a Doctoral University marked by "high research activity" - the second highest classification Carnegie bestows.

The dean will join a University that has embarked on a transformation guided by the 24th President, Dr. Michael R. Lovell, who joined Marquette in 2014. Since that time, Dr. Lovell has led the campus community in implementing Marquette's ambitious strategic plan, Beyond Boundaries. This plan requires extraordinary investment and innovative, new partnerships to bolster how Marquette delivers transformational education and student experiences, advances research and scholarship, thrives in the new and dynamic environment of higher education, builds its endowment, and reimagines and reshapes its infrastructure. The College of Business Administration is critical to Marquette University's accomplishment of these goals, and the next dean will need to address the following key opportunities and challenges:

Build and strengthen external relationships to create opportunities and resources for COBA's students, faculty, and staff

Advance the college's vision and mission through creative strategies and tactics that better position COBA as a premier business school

Lead a talented organization that is resourceful, entrepreneurial, and forward-looking

Foster a culture in COBA that embraces diversity, equity, and inclusivity

Marquette has retained Isaacson, Miller, a national executive search firm, to assist in this search. This is a confidential search where the names of candidates, including finalists, will not be made public.
