The School of Management at the University at Buffalo (State University of New York, SUNY at Buffalo) invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor (10-month) position in Supply Chain and Operations Management to start Fall 2025.

Candidates are expected to pursue high-quality research and have a strong commitment to the development of the Department's academic programs at undergraduate, MBA, MS, and Ph.D. levels, in terms of teaching and leadership. Candidates are expected to contribute to university-wide interdisciplinary research and support the educational mission of the UB RENEW Institute and the Institute for Sustainable Transportation & Logistics.

In this role:

- Applicants will ideally conduct research in the Supply Chain and Operations Management domain and publish in top-tier journals. Research methods include but are not restricted to operations research, stochastic modeling, empirical methods, data analytics, and machine learning.
- Initial teaching duties will be introductory undergraduate and graduate operations management courses, and evidence of effective teaching experience is desirable.

For full consideration, applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, and teaching statement by October 31st, 2024. Applications will be considered until the position is filled.

The search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Outstanding Benefits Package

Working at UB comes with benefits that exceed salary alone. There are personal rewards including comprehensive health and retirement plan options. We also focus on creating and sustaining a healthy mix of work, personal and academic pursuit - all in an effort to support your work-life effectiveness. We support your growth and development through our career coaching and training department and we qualify as a public service loan forgiveness organization.
