a Lecturer in a wide area of Management specializations. The candidate is expected to manage and support cross-faculty delivery of postgraduate, undergraduate, and executive programmes. With an ethos of providing an exceptional student experience, the post holder will work with the Faculty Director and teaching staff as any partner faculty/University to ensure efficient and effective delivery of modules. S/he will be responsible for ensuring that curriculum management and enhancement activities comply with required standards of the Omani accreditation authorities and those with partner(s). The post holder is expected to drive His/her research agenda in alignment with the University's Research Strategy.

For appointment, a minimum of an MSc qualification in Management field is needed along with one to two years' experience of higher education (HE) teaching, and/or a PhD in Management field is required from an accredited university, ideally AACSB accredited, solid research profile, and a minimum of three years' post-doctoral HE teaching (including at master's level) with industry experience. Experience of the Omani and GCC HE environments would be an advantage, as would strong links to industry and experience of an international context. In addition to teaching, the "PhD" post-holder will be responsible for developing and supervising research projects, building collaborations and leading-edge practice through an international publication record.

The overall economic landscape in The Sultanate of Oman has been constantly improving over the years as a result of progressive governmental plans, policies and strong regulations. Human capital and research are key pillars underpinning these efforts in the national level and Muscat University is well-placed to play an important role as facilitator through its vision of being a beacon of excellence in innovation and entrepreneurship, delivering high-quality teaching, facilitating learning and conducting rigorous research that is relevant to the social and economic priorities of Oman.

We acknowledge, understand and embrace diversity and expect joining faculty to display and apply the same principles.
